Sen. Zenzinger visits Westminster businesses on second installment of 'Discovery Tour'

WESTMINSTER -- State Sen. Rachel Zenzinger recently toured businesses in the Jefferson County portion of Westminster, wrapping up the second date of her "Discovery Tour" with a special town hall meeting.

Sen. Zenzinger kicked off the day on April 26th with a stop at Lake Arbor Automotive, where she met Dana TePoel, the company's owner, and discussed the need for lawmakers to make smart investments in infrastructure development in Colorado.

Sen. Zenzinger then visited number of local businesses, including Mattress King of Westminster and the Quaker Steak restaurant, followed by a stop at the Kokopelli Beer Company. There, head brewer Rick Holt led the Senator on a tour of the brewery, which just opened its doors in January and already has become a vibrant part of the Westminster community.

Sen. Zenzinger concluded the tour at Covenant Village in Westminster, where she was joined by Westminster Mayor Herb Atchison for a special town hall meeting for residents of the retirement community. The Senator took questions on a broad array of topics and discussed some of the legislation she's introduced in the Senate this year, focusing on her "Three E's:" elders, education and the economy.
